The subjects for pulpit treatment next day in the Presbyterian church will in their order be "God's Favorite Form of Government," and "The Great Christening". The Chapel has been furnished with a piano, and the help with the meetings generally will be greatly appreciated.

HOME FROM CAMPING TRIP.

Tom Gray, W. J. Barber, Will Fenton and Green Ussery returned this morning from a fifteen or twenty days outing through the northern part of the state. They went out by Albuquerque and visited the Company B. boys and from there they visited the Barber-Doepp ranch. They found some country that was in fine condition and cattle looking very well. However, none of them are planning to move to that country. The four mentioned men are cattlemen and always like to see other ranches. As far as we have learned none of them bought range or ranches.

Mrs. Frank Ross, of Loving, came up Saturday and has been the guest of Mrs. L. E. Hayes. They attended the sixty sixth anniversary of the Rebekahs last night. Mr. and Mrs. Ross returned to Loving today.

Charlie James, who has spent most of the summer on the ranch looking after his cattle, came in yesterday and will be here a few days.

Attorney I. S. Eppstein, of the Roswell bar, came yesterday and is here with business pertaining to court.

Mrs. W. H. C. Smith, mother of the Elbert and Henry Smith, of the firm of Pratt-Smith, has returned to Portales. Mrs. Smith has made her children here a nice visit. She has a couple or three daughters who reside here also—Mrs. Leon Mudgett, Mrs. Casper Fosmark, and Miss Dora Smith, who is successfully instructing a class in kindergarten.

LEAVES FOR BATTALION.

Major E. P. Bujac, who has been here visiting and transacting business with the court, was bidding his host of friends adieu yesterday and left for Albuquerque last night where he joins his battalion. The Major may not have the pleasure of returning to his home again soon as he will go with the Second Battalion wherever duty calls. War is no new game with the Major as he was one of the number that went to the Phillipines and was spared to see the stars and stripes on our own soil again and here is wishing a kind hand will watch over the boys of our land as well as our officers and may they "see our own native land again" if they sail for the old country.

Tom Reeves and wife are in town today. They have been kept close at the ranch while they wer ebranding and changing the cattle around. Mr. Reeves is very well satisfied with the cattle business. He managed to keep from overstocking his range and in spite of the drouth his cattle have done very well.

The "Handy" Motor

The mythology of the ancient Greeks tells of a giant, named Briareus, who performed prodigies because he had a hundred hands.

The Briareus of modern science is the G-E electric motor. A 10 horse power G-E motor will not only do the work of one hundred human hands, but will keep on doing it year in and year out, without tiring or failing.

Unless you are already using G-E motors in your shop, our power man can show you where you can effect surprising savings in time and labor.

Will you let us demonstrate?
